■ AUCTION FLOW RULES

The auction will follow a predefined character sequence. There are 30 unique characters in the auction pool, each having 3 copies. The auction will take place in two rounds.

Round 1 – Double Appearance Round

In the first round, each character will appear twice consecutively in the auction.

Example format:

Character A → Character A
Character B → Character B
Character C → Character C

This pattern continues for all characters in the predefined order.

Total characters auctioned in this round: 60 characters.

This gives teams two immediate chances to bid for the same character.

Round 2 – Single Appearance Round

After the first 60 characters are auctioned, the list will repeat from the beginning. However, in this round each character will appear only once.

Example format:

Character A → Character B → Character C → Character D

The auction will continue in this order until all teams complete their decks.

Key Points

- Teams will be provided the full auction sequence beforehand.
- Each team must build a deck of 8 characters.
- Once a character is sold, that specific copy is no longer available.
- If a team misses a character in Round 1, they may get another opportunity in Round 2.
